

Information for Brand Owners

Although there are no legal requirements for branding iron size, they should be 4 inches in height with a 3/8-inch face. Irons should be heated to wood-ash gray before applying to hide. They should burn deep enough so the scars will peel.

When branding, position the characters in your brand exactly as shown on your brand certificate. The brand must be placed on the proper location on the animal. Every person in charge of livestock shipment should know the ownership of the brands on the animals their care.

Obtain a bill of sale from the recorded brand owner when buying branded livestock. This will eliminate delays at the markets. Brand inspectors will not honor a bill of sale covering livestock bearing a recorded brand unless it has been signed by the recorded owner and witnessed by a disinterested party. Proof of ownership will be required for animals bearing fresh brands when such animals carry an old brand. Branding livestock with your brand in no way exempts you from having to prove ownership on an existing brand on the animal.

A brand, regardless of its recording date, is to be renewed on a predetermined five year schedule. A renewal notice will be mailed to the last known address on file in the brand recording office. Contact the North Dakota Stockmen's Association at (701) 223-2522 or brands@ndstockmen.org if your mailing address changes.

Brand Joint Ownership Definitions

“And” = Tenants in Common, which means that all owners on the brand will need to sign a bill of sale. It will also mean that in the event a brand owner dies, his or her portion of the brand will then be assumed by his or her estate.

“And/Or” = Joint Tenancy and Tenants in Common, which means any owner on the brand can sign a bill of sale. It will also mean that in the event that a brand owner dies, his or her portion of the brand will then be assumed by his or her estate.

“Or” = Joint Tenancy, which means any owner on the brand can sign a bill of sale. It will also mean that in the event that a brand owner dies, his or her portion of the brand will then be assumed by the remaining brand owners.
